

About Your Therapist

Jennifer Gonzalez, MA, NCC, LPC

Jennifer Gonzalez was raised in a Christian home as the daughter of a minister and a public school librarian. She never expected to follow in both of their footsteps. After pursuing a pre-med degree, God made it abundantly clear that her calling was helping students, both through the church and the public schools. She dedicated the first 16 years of her professional career to these very things. God has given her so many opportunities to serve people in both their happiest and most trying times. This led her to a deep desire to walk alongside others as they find who they truly are in Christ. She developed a passion for the truth. In 2017, she received her Master's in Counseling from Wayland Baptist University. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor and also holds her credentials as a National Certified Counselor. Along with working for LifeRecovered for the past 2 years, she also has a private counseling practice in which she sees clients from her community that are not currently in ministry. Jennifer served as an addiction counselor at a residential rehabilitation facility for teenage boys ages 13-18. She is also currently serving as a School Counselor at an elementary school. Jennifer's passion, however, is still very much for those in ministry. Jennifer has served alongside her husband in ministry for the last 20 years. Along with their 2 beautiful children, they have served as Pastor to Students across the state of Texas. They have been actively involved in the Super Summer organization, as well as other organizations that support the growth and spiritual development of today's young people. She desires to help women find their true identity in Christ and to live the life that God has called them to live. She believes that God has created us physically, emotionally, mentally, socially, and spiritually. This is also the desire and vision of LifeRecovered! She will help you evaluate each of these areas in your life and take action toward healthy living in each area. She will walk alongside you as you seek to find peace, balance, and the life you were created to live!
